Fox Valley Surgical Associates Announces Surgeon's Retirement Jeffrey Klingbeil, MD, Retires After 23 Years with FVSA

Fox Valley Surgical Associates (FVSA) has announced the retirement of Jeffrey Klingbeil, MD, after 23 years of practice with the organization. A skilled general and colorectal surgeon, Dr. Klingbeil joined FVSA in 1996 after completing fellowship training at Michigan State University. He specialized in diseases of the bowel and used his expertise in this area to alleviate his patients' fears and educate them about the best treatment options available. Dr. Klingbeil treated conditions ranging from Chron's disease, colorectal cancer and irritable bowel syndrome to issues with the gall bladder and hernias. He earned his medical degree at the Medical College of Wisconsin in Milwaukee and received residency training from the University of Wisconsin-Marshfield. Dedicated to staying on top of the latest treatments and technologies, Dr. Klingbeil was a long-time member of the American College of Surgeons, American Society of Colon & Rectal Surgeons and the Wisconsin Medical Society. He retired from FVSA on March 1.
